HASH HISTORY – RUN #1555 – Live Virgin Farm Girl Hares... Nuff Said - Reported by RTG

There was a good turnout for the mini road trip to CUM KITTY KITTY's and GENERAL ADMISSION's virgin hare hash. Both hares were decked out in appropriate farmer's daughter outfits of skimpy gingham blouses, denim short shorts and straw hats. The trail started at Just Ross's dairy farm, much to the delight of COWPOKER, who started his visit to the farm by getting to know one of the calves. The calf responded by showing all the hashers his impressive tongue, and COWPOKER had a smile on the rest of the evening. Since the run was down south, it started a leisurely 45 minutes late, during which time GENERAL ADMISSION was trying to give directions to the farm to several newboots. After running through some shiggy, hashers were rewarded by finding some Boone's Farm wine (again, we were down south), and jello shots. After a brief lecture on what plants were corn and which were weeds given by Just Ross, the hashers proceeded to trample the corn anyway. AH SHIT somehow managed to find a field of what he termed "hemp", which he said needed a few weeks to mature. After narrowly avoiding a strategically placed electric fence, hashers stumbled onto the next beer check, to be given a dose of truly Southern humor, from Black Sheep (Atlanta) hasher OOPS. Example: "Termite walks into a bar, jumps on the bar stool, and asks "is the bartender here?" Get it? is the bartender here?" Fortunately, the trail continued-through a beautiful but mucky pond. Short cutters DIEGO and MOUSE BEATER avoided the pond, only to be misled into a carefully planned trap, where MOUSE was introduced to a stream by EGGBEATER. Somehow the trail led back to the farm, where COWPOKER enjoyed himself again. AH SHIT later described the run as a six sided square country block. Ceremonies featured a new award for getting hit by a bus. SHOW ME bravely made it to the on-in, and provided a graphic retelling of her mishap with a Madison Metro bus. After the lawsuit is settled, expect good beer at every hash. This also marked the last hash with us for COCK-A-RISE who is returning to Japan. There were several new boots that included at least Just Ryan, Just Kevin, Just Tabatha and Just Ron, all stuck around for ATV hayrides and a bonfire to close out the evening.

HASH HISTORY – RUN #1556 – POOP EYE's 40th Birthday Hash and Porta-Party

About 35 hashers showed up for POOP EYE's 40th birthday hash that started on a back street in Oregon. The weather was almost perfect as the pack tried to find the start of the trail. After a false start in the wrong direction, they were off on mild shiggy and urban streets. After some good meandering, there was a beer check in someone's garage in town. This person was expected to show up later but I don't think we ever met him. (Just another one of POOP EYE's invisible friends?) Shortly after the garage beer check, AH SHIT showed up in STOOLIE's vintage red corvette and offered to "autohash" with the younger hash babes (if you know what I mean). A few took him up for a ride to the next beer check at a downtown bar. From there it was an easy jog back to the cars and out to the rural home of Just Cheryl for the On-On. Easy for everyone except AH, who decided to run the distance. Just Cheryl has a fabulous party house and everyone immediately adjusted to the Grotto hot tub that had a water source arching through the air. The floor was quickly flooded. There was plenty of great food prepared by a team headed up by CLITIGATOR. There were also many more people arriving for the big party. Ceremonies began without the hares who took off on a beer run but included welcoming several new boots including POOP EYE's friends from Penn State, Just Cheryl, Just Andy, Just Brian, Just Andrea and Just Chris who was made cum by the internet. There were also some seldom sees like IN AND OUT, ASTI SPEW MOUNTIE, ICUF, RETURN TO GENDER, ABR, BEARBOOBS and LORENA CARROT. RD did the Sex Pot Song for the RD look a likes that included a delighted GENERAL ADMISSION. Finally there was a big birthday down-down for POOP EYE and some appropriate birthday entertainment that included POOP EYE retrieving items from a replica porta-potty, and a poopy, gooey dousing of POOP EYE with edible and lickable poop-look-a-like that was licked off by the hash babes.
